Summary

Asian Pacific Islander Forward Movement (APIFM) is a division of Special Service for Groups (SSG), a non-profit health and human service organization dedicated to building and sustaining community-based programs that address the needs of vulnerable communities. APIFM's mission is to cultivate healthy, long-lasting, and vibrant Asian and Pacific Islander communities through grassroots organizing. Programming focuses on four main areas: (1) Healthy food access and education, (2) Active living and transportation, (3) Culture and community health, and (4) Environmental justice.

APIFM has established a regional food hub called Food Roots which connects local and sustainably grown Asian specialty produce to community institutions in L.A. while supporting Asian American farmers. Over the next 2 years, Food Roots will distribute thousands of pounds of fresh food to K-12 schools, health clinics, early childhood education centers, parks, and other CalFresh approved sites. Food Roots will leverage relationships with its existing local farmer network and build new partnerships with wholesale produce distributors, gleaners, and food recovery/rescue organizations to source fresh produce for distribution to assigned sites.

Under direct supervision from the APIFM Program Manager, the Administrative Assistant will be responsible for executing administrative tasks and conducting data entry, supporting program implementation and tracking process objectives, program deliverables, including data entry, file management, logistics and coordination of meetings and other program needs, and general program support. Fulfill fiscal management requirements, including tracking program expenses, preparation of monthly invoices, submission of associated back up documentation, and preparation for County, State, and federal audits.
